Murder suspect indicted

By Molly Haines
Landmark News Service

Two Owen County men were indicted by a Franklin County grand jury May 9 after allegedly strangling a Frankfort man to death and dumping his body on the side of Interstate 64 in Franklin County.

Joshua Hammond, 31, and David Bruce II, 44, both of Owen County were indicted in Franklin Circuit Court on the charges of murder, assault, first-degree robbery and tampering with physical evidence.

A third man from Grant County, James Simons, 35, was also indicted on the same charges. The three men were arrested last week after a passerby noticed a dead body alongside Interstate 64 May 6 in Franklin County.

According to Franklin County Sheriff Pat Melton, the victim, Charles Monroe, 30, had met the three men at the Frankfort Walmart on Leonardwood Drive to allegedly purchase prescription pain pills.

Prosecuting attorney Larry Cleveland said from the victims perspective it was safe to call the case a “drug deal gone bad.”

Williamstown water plant moves forward

By Jamie Baker-Nantz
Editor

The City of Williamstown is moving forward on construction of a new $16.6 million water plant.

The city’s first step was to purchase 55 acres of land on Waterworks Road for $355,000.

This land is at the top of the hill from the city’s water storage tank and adjacent to property the city already owns.

“It was the best location we could have had,” said Williamstown Mayor Rick Skinner.

The city’s current water plant was built in 1964 and has a capacity of producing 2.5 million gallons per day.

WHAT’S THE PLAN?

Williamstown City Council has purchased 55 acres on Waterworks Road for a new water plant. Securing funding is the next phase of the project.

Skinner said due to the plant’s age, the maximum capacity he estimates the plant to be able to produce safely is closer to 2 million gallons.

The city either had to spend as much as $5 million to upgrade the existing plant to make it compliant with new regulations for 2014 or build a new plant.

“With an estimated cost of $16.6 million there’s a lot to consider, but we have to have water,” Skinner said.

Funding will be the next phase of the project.

“We feel that we need $8 million in grants,” Skinner said.

Brenda Bishop received what she called an early Mother’s Day gift May 11 as her late son was honored with a memorial highway in Grant County.

SFC Jason Bishop, 31, of Williamstown, was killed Jan. 1, 2006, while serving in Bayji, Iraq.

Bishop’s memorial highway will be from the intersection of KY 22 to the intersection KY 467 on US 25 (Dry Ridge Bypass).

“When you lose one of your children, you lose everything,” Brenda said. “I’m glad that Grant County is honoring him. They’re showing him some respect.”

“We come this way all the time,” she said about the memorial highway. “We’ll see it everyday just about. It makes me happy. I’ll think about my son.”

Family, friends and local officials joined to unveil the sign recognizing Bishop’s sacrifice.

Grant County Judge Executive Darrell Link served as master of ceremonies.

“He was a hero. I keep telling myself he was doing what he wanted to do. He lived and died for (the military.)”

VOTE FOR SCOTT BRUCE

IN THE MAY 22 REPUBLICAN PRIMARY

Scott Bruce the Citizen's Candidate To make a change - you must vote.

"You should know how your candidate feels about the issues important to you. I stepped into this race because of my concern that our government is slipping away from the people's control. I fear our government has become controlled by career politicians who reserved politics for the wealthy and not for what is best for Kentucky.

I am Scott Bruce. I was born and raised in Mason, Ky. Like my father and grandfather, I am a third generation grocer at Bruce's Grocery. At an early age I was taught work ethic, equality and fairness. Karen, my wife of 17 years, and I have raised our three children with the same principles. I am a 1981 graduate of the University of Kentucky with a Bachelors of Science in Business Administration. I will take sound business practices to Frankfort and work for you. Over 76 years, Bruce's Grocery has seen a lot of changes and tough times. Using common sense in these times, is what we as Kentuckians need in Frankfort. We need our legislators in Frankfort to stop playing their political games and DO WHAT IS BEST for Kentuckians and LEAD US through these uncertain times.

As your State Representative I believe in and will work for:

- ☒ Term Limits
- ☒ A stop to legislators receiving health and retirement benefits at tax payers expense after leaving office.
- ☒ No more educational mandates so students may learn and teachers can teach
 - ☒ Right to work - Lets bring and keep jobs in Kentucky
 - ☒ Getting state employees' retirement fund refunded.

For those of you I have not personally talked to, I am concerned for our government, your constitution and your fiscality in government and your way of life. I believe firmly that legislators should accomplish their work in regular session.

Day places in top 10 at power rodeo

By Jamie Baker-Nantz
Editor

While some people might shy away from heights, Brandon Day isn't afraid. He actually climbs poles for a living as assistant superintendent of Williamstown's Electric Department. He took his climbing ability to the Cleveland Public Power Lineworker's Rodeo, a national competition, held April 14. Day, a graduate of Williamstown High School, earned a spot in the top 10 competitors. He placed eighth out of 59 in his first competition. "I wanted to be in the top half and I did it," he said, smiling.

Day said if he would have gotten one more question correct on the written test, he would have placed first. The rodeo consisted of a written test and four climbing events including hurt man rescue, street light change out, three-phase fuse replacement and an obstacle course. This was the first time that the city had sent someone to a lineman competition. Day's participation was sponsored by AMP Ohio, the company the city purchases electric from. "I was excited he wanted to try and pleased with his showing," said Williamstown Mayor Rick Skinner.

Day is a U.S. Marine and previously worked in landscaping. He's worked for the city since 2010. He hopes to be able to return to future competitions. The 2013 competition will be held in Florida. "I really appreciate the opportunity

VIEWPOINT

OUR OPINION

No vote = no gripe

In case you hadn't heard, there's an election on May 22. There are Democratic and Republican candidates for state representative, state senator and U.S. Representative.

Those who receive the most votes in this election, will face off in Novemer and will be the men or women that will be serving us in Frankfort and Washington for the next two to four years.

Too often we hear the public complaining about the way politicians are not making choices in the best interest of the people they are supposed to be serving.

That's why it's so important for citizens to make their voices heard and the way to do that is to take the time to go to the polls (they're open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.) and exercise the right and privilege to vote.

Or you could stay home, not vote and gripe about where the state and country are headed.

Politicians have a tough job. They've got to balance budgets with shrinking resources and find ways to meet the needs, wants and expectations of the citizens they promised to serve.

But when you don't vote, you don't really deserve the privilege to gripe about the job they're doing.

Editorials published in the Grant County News are the collective opinion of the News editorial team.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

Four weddings and a festival

I lay in bed on the eve of Derby Day listening, sometimes getting up to watch the storms roll across Williamstown. Having spent a great deal of time and effort in helping many others prepare the local Derby Day Festival, I was haunted by the four past years of much less than perfect weather.

I had already responded to a disgruntled Derby Idol contestant who emailed me.

They wrote, "I had not a problem making it any other year I will let it be known that this year was fixed as well as former years!!!! This audition was a conflict of my interest due to me and Diana Kozar, (one of three judges for this year), a former winner of Derby Idol!!! I will never try out for this again!!! It's fixed like every thing in a small town. The judges should be picked out of town but then people that can't sing wouldn't win and !!! would they!!! What a joke!!!"

I have invited the writer to write a letter to the editor, be on my radio show and join the Derby Day Committee for next year or the Marigold Day Committee for later this year. Otherwise, I may be the same person picking the judges again next time. I have no problem with stepping this old body aside for someone willing to work for our community.

As I arrived at festival central on Saturday morning, May 5, my heart was heavy and my spirit almost shattered under falling rain. I knew that Grant Countians were fickle about the weather when it came to attending events. I also knew vendors often didn't show.

"Please Lord," I said. "I'm not a good Episcopalian but from one to another... we need this event to be dry."

And the rain stopped. And the vendors constructed their abodes. And the people came out, first under a cloudy canopy then under the bright sun.

The talent show people began arriving with their hearts set on performing.

Derby Idol and Jr. Idol finalists could be seen dressed and warming up for their performance. Vintage cars rolled into town, cooks began cooking, dancers were preparing and blow up things were blown up while pirate ships began rocking and cow milking made its first appearance at Derby Day.

As everything began rocketing to a crescendo, I disappeared to the gazebo to make final adjustments for our first ever Derby Day weddings.

I had about 10 telephone conversations with the mother of one bride as my Derby

Wedding plans fell into place with the help of Marlene McComas.

Having heard how judge Darrell Link had married 1,000 couples at the courthouse, I thought that maybe I could coordinate some future courthouse marriage plans into a Derby Day event. We would take a couple that was going to get married and for a small fee, we would change the ceremony into a wedding to be remembered.

Anyone who witnessed the marriage ceremonies of Jennifer and Jarrett, and Michelle and Dominick should remember it for the rest of their life.

The gazebo was decorated, the brides had beautiful dresses, veils, flowers, and the crowd was misty eyed. There was even a 50-year anniversary renewal of wedding vows.

Personally Speaking

is the opinion of the writer and does not necessarily reflect the editorial opinion of the newspaper.

The big day draws near

T-minus 23 days and counting. It may sound like a countdown to a space shuttle launching, but for me, it is a countdown to the day I get to marry my best friend, Jessica Lynn Purnell.

The day is rapidly approaching and my excitement level has hit a 10 on the meter.

The ribbons are coming together on the programs, the photos are being scanned into our computer to be put into a slideshow for the reception, a million things on the checklist, but with each step we take, we get closer to June 9, 2012.

That day seemed like it would be an eternity when I proposed to Jessica on Sept. 18, 2010, especially with attending nine weddings in 2011.

But here we are with just about three weeks to go and the beginning of parties to celebrate our upcoming marriage.

On May 18, we will be having our couple's shower, where we will spend time together playing games with family and friends.

A week later, we will be going to our bachelor and bachelorette parties, albeit in the same place, a Cincinnati Reds game.

This time is going to be one of the happiest moments of our lives and being able to share that with Jessica and her family and mine, it is just great.

We have looked at pictures, picking out our favorites, reliving our childhood, and seeing photos for the first time.

It is just amazing how time has flown since then. I never thought that at this moment in my life that I would find someone so special to spend the rest of my life with.

As the final three weeks wind down and June 9 approaches, I look back on my life and see that even in the tough times, when nothing seemed to go my way, I have been blessed by God with a wonderful family, and that He has helped me get to where I am today. I look forward to starting a life with Jessica and being a part of her family and my family looks forward to her being a part of ours. Thank you God for everything, for I am truly blessed.

A WORD FROM OUR READERS . . .

Don't judge me by my teeth!

This is a gripe letter. To all of us who look at someone without teeth and judge them for not getting them, shame on you and me.

I'm guilty too. Just go to your phone and call every dentist in there and you will soon know why.

I'm talking about the ones in Grant County. You can drive 30 minutes max and find a good dentist for half the price. I know, I did.

When someone tells you to keep your money in your county, ask them if they can or will bring their prices into line with other counties. I don't care to keep my money in Grant County but I don't want to give it all to just one for something I need.

I know everything is high but they don't have to rob you with numbers. I paid half of what I was quoted in Grant County and I'm proud of the way my teeth look and have a good warranty on them plus adjustments.

So if you are lucky enough to have teeth, don't judge the ones who don't because like me, you could be the next one with a short finger from dentist shopping on the phone.

So smile at someone without choppers and tell them the best place to go.

DOWN AND DIRTY

Mow high to maintain lawn health

Americans have all sorts of reputations, one being our love affair with the perfect lawn. The funny thing about it is that many of our lawn care habits actually create additional problems that need some sort of intervention. It is a vicious lawn care cycle. Fertilize, mow, spray, fertilize, mow, spray...why not just mow high and enjoy the clover? No matter how many times agronomists warn us not to fertilize in the spring products fly off the shelf in April and May. Fall is the time to fertilize, if you must. The grass will be lush and green in the spring on its own; it will grow twice as fast as any other time of the year and it will use up any fertilizer you put down on this speedy growth. You just made your mowing chores more urgent.

Sick lawn

Over feeding can also cause a higher incidence of summer lawn diseases and the build-up of thatch. Thatch is not caused by leaving grass clipping on the lawn rather it is a condition where grass roots mat on the surface and make it difficult for oxygen, water and nutrients from reaching the more important deeper roots.

Mulching grass clippings back onto the lawn has many benefits, in fact. Decomposing grass provides trace amounts of slowly released nitrogen and encourages healthy microbial and earthworm activity that feeds and aerates the lawn further. And, too much nitrogen in the spring is linked to fungal lawn diseases like red thread, dollar spot, brown patch and frog-eye. Alas, mowing your lawn properly can solve a great many lawn care problems. The number one rule is to mow high. No one pays attention to this recommendation, either but it makes a great deal of sense in terms of overall best management practices. I suppose, too, if people have lawn care companies doing the mowing for them they may feel cheated if their lawn is not cut close. We need to rethink this mentality and encourage our lawn care companies to mow a bit higher, as well.

Jeneen WICHE

Weekend Gardener

Mow problem

If you mow high, at two and a half to three inches, you can greatly reduce the amount of weed seed that can make contact with soil thus eliminating many annual weed problems in the lawn. If weeds do exist the taller grass will out-compete weed seedlings for sunlight, water and nutrients. Research also shows that taller grass has deeper roots; deeper roots mean less drought stress.

Mowing frequency is also linked to lawn health. Agronomists recommend that we remove about one third of the blade at each mowing. If you mow grass common sense tells you when it has gotten too high, grass clogs up the mower, or causes it to cut off or hesitate. Allowing the grass to get too high between mowing also stresses the turf when you do actually mow especially if you mow really short. Essentially you have just removed the grass's ability to function if only a stub is left behind. No photosynthesis, no nutrient storage, etc. Do this week after week in the summer and it causes stress. It is not that difficult to have a decent lawn if you follow healthy management practices.

To the fescue

Also, plant tall type fescue in Kentuckiana, it is the most resilient for our environment. Tall fescue is more forgiving when it comes to poor soil and it will save itself during a drought by going dormant. If you suspect you have a grub problem, evidenced by irregular dead patches in the lawn, you can treat the problem with Milky Spore. This bacterium has long been used as a grub control and is easily applied to the lawn where it then feeds on the offending grubs. Nature taking care of nature is the best solution, after all.

FAITH & VALUES

RELIGIOUS VIEWS

DON'T BE A LOSER!

Baseball is a big part of my ministry, and I serve as the head coach at Asbury University. The Asbury team began this season with a 0-17 record. That's right. We lost our first 17 games – and most of them weren't close. Have you ever been through a "losing streak" in your life? I have – and I think many of you who may never have even played baseball can relate to what a 17-game losing streak feels like.

The temptation is to let the "losing streak" define who you are. When you're down and out – when a job is hard to find and the bills are overdue and your health is failing and your kids are hungry – it's easy to fall into the trap that the world has set for you and define yourself as a "loser."

But Christ offers hope in our darkness! When we were in the midst of our 17-game losing streak, the Asbury players rallied together and dedicated the rest of the season to Christ alone. We surrendered to Jesus and trusted that win, lose or draw, as long as we followed His will for our season -- then we would be rewarded in some way.

From that moment on, our season turned around. We started playing much better, winning some games, and by the end of the season, we were the conference champs for the first time in school history, and went on to the NAIA World Series opening round. But all along the journey, we stayed true to who we are – dedicated followers of Jesus Christ.

Friends, no losing streak can define who we are in this world. When we surrender our lives to Jesus Christ, and let our relationship with Him define who we are, then we can never lose. For what was true for us, is true for all – surrender to Jesus ... and win.

CHURCH NOTES

Corinth Christian

- There are many, many responsibilities that go with the title of Motherhood. A mother passes on her faith in many ways - work ethic, money, behavior and spirituality. If you want to keep your children's feet on the ground, you need to put some responsibility on their shoulders. Pretty is what you are, beauty is what you do with it.

Dry Ridge Baptist

- May 20 - Dr. Jerry Pipes will be speaking in both morning and evening worship services. Dr. Pipes has traveled around the world speaking to millions of people in churches, schools and businesses. He is one of a handful of speakers recommended by the Billy Graham Training Center.
- Several more dozen cookies are needed. The church would like to supply every senior in Williamstown and Grant County High School with a bag of cookies. Bring them May 20 so the youth will have time to get them in bags and get them distributed.
- June 3 - New Sunday School class for anyone who is not currently attending Sunday School. Meet in the sanctuary. Teachers are Jack Wilson and Jeff Bricken.
- June 21 - Young at Heart will leave the church at 7:30 a.m. for Stearns, Ky. to ride the Big South Fork Scenic Railway. They will leave the station at 11 a.m. to go to Blue Heron, a coal mining camp where they can view a coal mine and a tippie. A Hobo box lunch will be available with a complimentary bandana. They will arrive back at Stearns at 2 p.m. and will then visit the museum. Cost of the entire trip is $23 and must be paid by June 7.

First Love Community

- May 12 - There were over 120 cars parked bringing the attendance way up in the 100's with a lot of people coming together crossing denominational lines of preference to fellowship with one another in Christ at the Community Jam. a hit as we look forward to doing the same thing next year.
- Jen Volker was the speaker for our Mother's Day service. She has a powerful testimony of the saving and healing power of Jesus Christ. Being brought up in an abusive situation as a young girl, drugs and diagnosed with Lupus not many years ago, God not only saved her but gave her a clean bill of health.

Harvest Apostolic

Pastor Pullens preached "The six most dangerous words" (Luke 14:12-14) "I pray thee have me excused"

These are the six most dangerous words you could say. The church is now full of people that are so critical of each other. They are looking at one another but when they are called on they begin to ask to be excused.

VERSE OF THE WEEK:

"Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord. - Psalms 31:24 (KJV)

Super Survivor Sunday celebrated May 20

The Grant County Relay For Life Committee is asking all Grant County churches to recognize and honor their cancer survivors in some way on Sunday, May 20 for Super Survivor Sunday.

"So many of the people involved with the relay are active in our churches so we thought this was the best way to reach out and ask that they be recognized," said Alice Ingram, the Grant County RFL team recruitment coordinator.

The Relay For Life is the signature fundraising event for the American Cancer Society. Grant County has held a relay for nearly 20 years. During this year's relay, which is planned for 7 p.m. on June 1 at Grant County Park, cancer survivors will be honored with a free meal, door prizes and a luminaria ceremony. All local cancer survivors and their families are invited to attend.

Super Survivor Sunday began in 2011 with only a handful of churches participating, but the GC Relay committee hopes the numbers continue to grow.

"We believe that the relay, which is about raising money to fund cancer research and programs, and the message of churches go hand in hand," said Ingram.

Ingram suggested the churches could do something as simple as ask the congregation's cancer survivors to stand and be recognized or possibly given a purple ribbon or even a flower.

"The relay is all about the survivors," said Ingram. "It's their party so we thought this was another way to honor their struggle. We just want to raise awareness about fighting cancer and honor those who've lost their battle with cancer and those that battle it every day."

Grant County's Relay For Life will be held at 7 p.m. on Friday, June 1 at Grant County Park.

For more information, call 859-824-3343.

When God's people sit on the gifts that God has given us, were asking to be excused.

MILITARY

State Rep. Royce Adams, D-Dry Ridge, who could not attend, help spearhead the effort to recognize Bishop.

Bishop was a member of the 133rd Cavalry Regiment, Air Assault Team, and 3rd Combat Team from Fort Campbell.

A 1993 graduate of Holmes High School, Bishop was a platoon sergeant who confronted a suicide bomber who had an IED, saving all 15 men in his platoon.

"He was a hero," Brenda Bishop said. "I keep telling myself that he was doing what he wanted to do. He joined the military 10 days after he got out of high school and he loved the military. He lived and died for it. By him saving his men, I think he was a great soldier. He didn't have to get out. He could have ordered anybody to get out and take on that suicide bomber, but he did it himself. That's the life he loved."

Bishop was highly decorated, his honors and awards include: Bronze Star Posthumous, Purple Heart Posthumous, Meritorious Service Medal - twice, Army Commendation Medal - twice, Army Achievement - twice, Army Good Conduct

Family members of Jason Bishop unveil a sign honoring the fallen soldier.

Medal - four times, National Defense Service Medal, Korean Defense Service Medal, Armed Forces Medal - twice, Noncommissioned Officers Professional Development Ribbon - three times, Army Service Ribbon, NATO Medal, Combat Action Badge Posthumous, Weapons Qualification badge, Bar, Weapon: Rifle (Inscription: Rifle), Drill Sergeant Identification badge, Pathfinder Badge, Parachutist Badge, Basic, Driver and Mechanic badge, Bar, Driver - (four-wheeled vehicles), Shooting Sneer Badge and Bronze Star with Valor Posthumous.

Bishop's daughter, Morgan, who was 9 when her father died, and his 7-year-old son, attended the ceremony.

"We met with Mr. (President George W.) Bush and (Morgan) asked him, 'Why did my father have to die?'" Brenda Bishop said. "He said, 'You're father was a hero. He was doing his job.'"

Matthew, who clutched a framed photograph of his dad during the unveiling, called the sign "special."

He was only 17 months old when his dad died in combat.

"His son only knew him through pictures," Brenda Bishop said. "He loves his father. He's very into this. He has his room made up like the U.S. Army and Black Hawk helicopters. He says that someday he is going in the Army like his Dad."

Franklin Bishop said he knows his son would appreciate the honor bestowed on him.

Originally, we are from Grant County and he would be proud of it," he said. "I know I am."

Pit Stop Campaign aims to save Pit Bulls

By Jamie Baker-Nantz Editor

Boomer is gentle and loving, an over grown lap dog who just wants to play.

When approached, his skinny tail whips fast and furious.

Boomer and others dogs like him are looking for a forever home, but when visitors come to the Grant County Animal Shelter, they often stop to look at him, but they keep on going.

Unfortunately for Boomer, a Pit Bull, his breed has a bad reputation, which is why Marsha Chaney, the shelter director, has started the "Pit Stop Campaign."

"We do have a lot of Pit Bulls that end up at the shelter," Chaney said. "And I think it's because people are over breeding them, either intentionally or accidentally."

According to Pitbull Advocate 101, Pit Bulls are the number one bred dog in the United States and they number roughly 3 million. For every one Pit Bull that finds a home, there are 699

Pit Bulls, like Boomer, are the most often bred dog and number one euthanized dog in animal shelters. Because of that, Marsha Chaney, animal shelter director, has started a "Pit Stop Campaign", which will cover the cost of spaying/neutering for Pit Bulls at the shelter. For more information, call 859-824-9403.

that are killed.

To Chaney, that means the Pit Bull is the number one bred dog and the number one euthanized dog.

"I know they've got a bad reputation, but they are not bad dogs," she said. "I'm not afraid to adopt them out."

Chaney said that when a Pit Bull comes to the Grant County Shelter they are given an assessment and if the animals doesn't show any sign of aggressive tendencies, the shelter staff tries to find them a home.

"We'll adopt them, it's just that people don't want to adopt them," she said.

Chaney wants to impact the county's Pit Bull population by offering spay/neuter procedures for $33 for Pit Bulls or Pit Bull mixed dogs. There are no income qualifications for the "Pit Stop Campaign."

Chaney said her goal is to prevent over breeding.

"A lot of breeds like Rottweilers, Pit Bulls, Dobermans and St. Bernards have gotten a bad rap, but it's all how they are raised. I've had meaner Chihuahuas in here than the Pit Bulls," Chaney said.

For more information about "Pit Stop Campaign", call the Grant County Animal Shelter at 859-824-9403.

BUSTED - Michael Paul Mursinna was arrested after fleeing May 11 while being served a warrant at Locust Ridge Apartments in Dry Ridge. He was taken to St. Elizabeth-Grant County and lodged in Grant County Detention Center after release. The warrant for parole violation was executed by Dry Ridge Police Chief Rick Kells.

Five qualify for Louisville

By Matt Birkholtz
Sports Writer

Hard work and dedication paid off for five local athletes, as they will head to the Kentucky High School Athletic Association State Track and Field meet, May 17-19 at the University of Louisville.

Grant County High School junior Taylor Cummins was the lone representative for her school, qualifying in the discus throw event with a distance of 85 feet, 3 inches.

It was the first time qualifying in the discus throw event, an event she just started performing in about three weeks ago.

“When I threw my furthest throw of the event, I was so excited,” Cummins said. “I threw it five more feet than I had done ever before.”

Cummins qualified for state when she was in the eighth grade, but hasn’t been able to make it back until this season, including last season when she had to sit out the year due to an injury.

“I am a little nervous,”

“ I like the atmosphere, because the top runners in the state are there and you are running with them. ”

- Sean Moreland
Williamstown Demon senior

Cummins said. “I am going to be competing against people that have been throwing longer than I have, but it is going to be a neat experience.”

For first-year coach Chris Jefferson, he was proud for the effort by the GCHS track team, including senior Tyler

Edmondson, who set his personal best time in the two-mile race with a time of 10:51.38.

“A lot of them knew it would take a lot to get to state, but they ran their races and I was proud of the effort they put out on the track,” Jefferson said.

On Williamstown’s side, they were able to qualify four athletes for the state meet, including seniors Blake Edmondson and Sean Moreland and juniors Alex Prokopchak and Quade Simpson to the Class A state meet.

Edmondson qualified for three events, the 100-meter dash, the 200-meter dash and the long jump.

“That was my best jump of the year,” Edmondson said. “It was a good time to peak.”

Edmondson won the Region 4 A 100-meter dash with a time of 11.55 seconds. Moreland qualified with his best time of the year with a time of 11.77 seconds.

For Edmondson, he said he wasn’t sure he was going to win the race down the stretch.

“I was pretty slow at the end and didn’t know if I was going to win,” Edmondson said. “It was all mental, but it was a relief to win and know that I was in.”

Moreland said it is nice to be able to run one more race with Edmondson.

Sponsors bring new look to GC Little League

By Matt Birkholtz
Sports Writer

With baseball in full swing, Grant County Little League has seen some improvements on and off the field.

James Lewis, the GCLL commissioner, has worked to improve the fields and provide the teams with the best experiences they can have.

What it took for him to get to that point was the help of local sponsors providing the full experience of playing baseball at the fields at Grant County Park in Crittenden.

“This year on our board, we added three or four new members, including Mike Smith,” Lewis said. “With him being a salesman he has helped get Forcht Bank to sponsor our big scoreboard.”

The new scoreboard can be seen from centerfield, allowing teams and patrons an opportunity to see the score of the game.

Forcht Bank, Piles Chevrolet and Coca-Cola provided some monetary help with the improvements at the park, along with Grant County Parks director Tabatha Clemons.

“We have a great relationship. I have been a long-time Grant Countian and I went through the GC Little League system,” Lewis said. “The parks’ crew have helped me get free reign on the equipment to make the fields look good and it has been a good positive experience.”

New dugouts have been installed, with new concrete poured, new benches and a roof over the benches to keep the players and coaches dry.

“I think with all of the upgrades we have done on the front field, it makes it feel like a true ball field,” Lewis said. “These are things we want to look at and improve on the back fields as well.”

On top of the field improvements, the sponsors have also helped with the concession stands, including adding a concession stand for the two fields in the back of Grant County Park.

Stith signs letter with TMC

By Matt Birkholtz
Sports Writer

Grant County High School senior Erica Stith signed her national letter of intent to play softball for Thomas More College, May 11 in the GCHS library.

“It was so exciting,” Stith said. “I was looking forward to 2:30 p.m. to sign the paper. I was thinking of it all week.”

Stith, who has played softball for GCHS since 2008, will be trading in her blue and gold for just blue with TMC.

“They have really good academics and I like the coaches and the team a lot,” Stith said.

Even though she has signed with another school, her mind is still set on finishing her final season in a Grant County uniform.

The Lady Braves are heading into the final week of the regular season with

“I started with T-ball and I just fell in love with the game.”

- Erica Stith
Lady Braves' senior

a record of 17-12.

Stith said she has enjoyed playing for coach Ott Reed and having her father, Jeff Stith, coaching her along the way.

“Coach Reed has helped me a lot,” Stith said. “He has really encouraged me and has been a great coach to have.”

Reed said he has enjoyed coaching a player like Stith.

“Hard work and perserverance have paid off for Erica,” Reed said. “She is fundamentally as sound as any player I have coached. She is a team player first and foremost.”

Stith also played basketball for the Lady Braves, but softball has always been her passion since she was a little girl.

“I started with T-ball and I just fell in love with the game,” Stith said. “I love the team atmosphere.”

Stith looks up to both of her parents, who have cheered her all the way.

“It was great to share the moment with my family,” Stith said.

She plans to get a degree in biology while attending TMC.

“I have always wanted to work in the medical field,” Stith said. “I have always wanted to help people and with this degree, I can do so much with it.”

Stith and fellow senior, Morgan McClure were honored on senior night May 15. Look for photos from the game in next week’s Grant County News.

Hicks to host basketball camp

The third annual Future Stars camp, hosted by Grant County High School basketball coach Jim Hicks, will be held June 4 - June 6 at GCHS.

The first session is for grades kindergarten through fifth grade and the second session is for grades sixth through eight. The first session will run from 9 a.m. to noon and the second session will run from 1 to 4 p.m.

Cost is $45 per person and will include a T-shirt. For more information, contact Hicks at 606-465-0624.

“I am really excited,” Moreland said. “I ran a really good race and am excited to represent Williamstown again in Louisville.”

Prokopchak qualified for both the triple and long jump. Both events are also first-year events for her.

“I went to state my freshman year and last year I missed going to state in the 800-meter run by 0.1 seconds,” Prokopchak said. “My goal was to get back to state. It’s not something you expect in this event, because it takes a lot of work to be good at it.”

Simpson is in his first year of track and is following his father’s footsteps with the shot put and discus events. Simpson qualified for the shot put with a distance of 40 feet, 2 inches.

“I knew I could get some mentoring from my father,” Simpson said. “I had him helping me all year and it’s humbling to know I have made it this far.”

Williamstown Track and Field qualified four athletes to the state meet, and they have no track to practice on. Just recently, Edmondson’s father and Prokopchak’s father made a pit for the jumpers to practice.

“For a team that practices everyday without a track, a ring to throw in, or the equipment, it’s neat to see the work pay off for our school to be well represented,” Simpson said.

Heading to Louisville is something to top your successful season and for these five athletes, it gives them an opportunity to showcase their talent in front of the entire state.

“I think it’s nice to run in their facility,” Moreland said. “I like the atmosphere, because the top runners in the state are there and you are running with them. It is exciting to be going back one more time.”

WINNING - Hunter Trenary, left, was the overall winner of the Derby Day 5k run with a time of 17:21. Melissa Schultz, right, was the first female finisher, running a time of 20:57. Full results can be found at www.runningtime.net. Photos by Bryan Marshall

Thank You

The family of Melvin Draper would like to thank everyone for their thoughts, prayers, donations and memorials.
Also, for all of the cards, food, and etc.
that were sent to the house. We'd also like to thank the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church for letting us use the church for Melvin's funeral services and also for the lovely meal that was provided after the services were concluded. All of it is greatly appreciated. We would like to personally thank all of the Grant County EMT's, the doctors and nurses at the Grant County Hospital who were on duty for all of their relentless efforts. And a very special thank you to Elliston & Stanley Funeral Home, Williamstown for all of the wonderful services they provided.

Corinth Water District purchases water from the Williamstown Municipal Water Department. Williamstown treats surface water from Lake Williamstown. An analysis of the susceptibility of the Williamstown Municipal Water Department public water supply at Lake Williamstown to contamination indicates that this susceptibility is generally moderate. There are some areas of concern. Agricultural areas located in the watershed for Lake Williamstown's intake introduce the potential of agricultural chemicals and runoff, activities that contribute to non-point source pollution. Bridges, railroads, and Tier II hazardous chemical users in the area introduce the potential for spills of hazardous materials. Other areas of concern include power line right-of-ways with potential herbicide use, and major roads located throughout the watershed. The following is a summary of the systems susceptibility to contamination, which is a part of the completed Source Water Assessment and Protection Plan (SWAP). The completed plan is available for inspection at the Williamstown City Building, 400 North Main St. Williamstown, KY 41097.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities). In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Information About Lead:
If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Your local public water system is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:
Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.
Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.
Parts per million (ppm) - or milligrams per liter, (mg/L). One part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.
Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.
Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.
Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.
Picouries per liter (pCL) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.
Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.
Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.
Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.
Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.
Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.
Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.
Spanish (Español) Este informe contiene información importante sobre la calidad de su agua beber. Tradúzcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

Total Organic Carbon (ppm) (measured as ppm, but reported as a ratio)	TT*	N/A	0.91 (lowest average)	0.50 to 2.10 (monthly ratios)	N/A	Yes

*Monthly ratio is the % TOC removal achieved to the % TOC removal required. Annual average of the monthly ratios must be 1.00 or greater for compliance.

THM (ppb) (all sites) [total trihalomethanes]	80	N/A	77 (system average)	32 to 124 (range of system sites)	N/A	No	Byproduct of drinking water disinfection.

Total organic carbon. Laboratory analysis results and established calculation methods indicate that the removal ratio for total organic carbon was not met. Total organic carbon (TOC) has no health effects. However, total organic carbon, provides a medium for the formation of disinfection byproducts. These byproducts include trihalomethanes, or THMs, and haloacetic acids, or HAAs. Drinking water containing these byproducts in excess of the MCL may lead to adverse health effects, liver or kidney problems, or nervous system effects, and may lead to an increased risk of getting cancer.

Haloacetic acids, or HAA. Williamstown received a violation for exceeding the HAA standard of 0.060 mg/L during the 2nd quarter of 2011. The average that quarter was 0.063 mg/L. Williamstown and Corinth customers were issued a public notification. Williamstown has made modifications to optimize their treatment process. Some people who drink water containing haloacetic acids in excess of the MCL over many years may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

This report is being published in the newspaper and will not be mailed unless requested. Copies are available at our office. If you desire a copy to be mailed to you please contact our office.

"AMERICA WANTS JUSTICE"

GREG FRANK

Kentucky 4th District, U.S. House of Representatives

Dear Citizens:

Americans have a long habit of not seeing the wrong in something, and by doing so, giving it the superficial appearance of being right. WE have traded one tyrant in the form of the King of England, for 535 self-serving, elitist, prima donnas, called the United States Congress. They have transformed the heart of our Republic into a wretched hive of scum and villainy, oozing with corruption. The American people are not getting what they deserve, while the special interests get what they pay for. As a soldier, I have taken an oath to defend the Constitution from enemies both foreign and domestic. I write this without reservation: Our corrupt two-party system of government which pits neighbor against neighbor, and family member against family member, in this perpetual blame-game warfare with the Taliban in Afghanistan could ever or will ever be!

Meanwhile, the men and women who make up Congress line their pockets with money while selling this nation than the Taliban in Afghanistan could ever or will ever be!

The purpose of the Constitution is not to protect government from the people. Its purpose is to protect the people from the government. Jefferson said: "Put not your faith in men, but bind them down with the chains of the Constitution. Experience has shown, that even under the best forms of government, those entrusted with power have, in time, and by slow operations, perverted it into tyranny." WE have to decide which is more important, to save our nation from the government, or watching the Sports Channel and the remote control!!

Our platform for regaining control of our government from the career politicians consists of Term limits, Popular vote, Balanced Budget Amendment, drug testing for ALL Federal employees to include Congress, Territorial integrity, Tax reform, State's rights/State Reimbursement Act. While embracing Republican, Democratic, Libertarian, Veterans Party, Tea Party and Independent thinking.

I ask you not what you can do for your political party. I ask you what you can do to save this nation from our corrupt, self-serving Congress. WE are Americans first, party members second. I have yet to see one tombstone in any veteran's cemetery with Democrat or Republican inscribed on them. America first!

WE would be honored to have your support in getting our government back. My name is Greg Frank, I am seeking the United States House of Representatives, 4th Congressional District seat. WE do not accept money in our quest, only your time and energy. Thank you for your time and God bless you and our nation.

Greg Frank

EXCELLENCE IN BUSINESS 2012

Recipe for success: treat others like you want to be treated

By Jamie Baker-Nantz
Editor

Integrity is defined as “adherence to moral and ethical principles; soundness of moral character.”

That’s how people who do business with Donnie Sechrest describe him – a man of integrity and character.

“Over the years, we have called on Sechrest Garage to help with people stuck at the fair during muddy seasons. During the development of the new fairgrounds, Donnie Sechrest came to the rescue on many occasions,” wrote Tena Webster in her nomination for Sechrest to be given the 2012 Excellence in Business award at the annual Grant County Chamber of Commerce Awards banquet.

Sechrest got the towing bug from his father, Ray Sechrest. Ray worked in a garage on U.S. 25 owned by Dewey Pettit and eventually bought Pettit out in 1945.

For nearly 60 years, Donnie has spent five and a half days a week, at the Williamstown landmark that’s hard to miss – first, with its rock building, which has since been replaced by a newer, larger metal building in shades of green.

He employs a dozen people at his family’s towing business.

From the driver’s seat, Sechrest has seen a lot - horrific accidents that killed nearly all the passengers and wrecks where accident victims crawled away unscathed from twisted metal and damaged cargo.

Sechrest’s hard work hasn’t gone unnoticed.

“I’ve never seen a situation that he couldn’t handle,” said Williamstown Police Chief Al Rich. Rich and Sechrest have been good friends for many years.

That sense of community and professionalism is the reason that Rich nominated him for the Order of Towmen Award from American Towman Magazine.

“Sechrest Garage is the most efficient and professional tow company I have ever had to deal with. They are always courteous to not only the officials, at the scene, but to their clients, which many times were victims of accidents or some type of stressful situation,” Rich wrote in the letter nominating Sechrest for the towman award.

Donnie Sechrest of Williamstown was awarded the 2012 Excellence in Business award at the Grant County Chamber of Commerce banquet.

“The extreme professionalism shown by Sechrest Garage in performing accident-related tows” was recognized in November 2011 in Baltimore, Md. during the American Towman Exposition.

Rich also said that Sechrest is “a compassionate, hard-working dedicated father and husband. His company is built on trust, and dependability.”

Sechrest has done it all from towing broken down vehicles and assisting in pulling large tractor-trailer trucks up embankments after they had tumbled off the roadway. He helped moved an announcer’s stand from the bottom of a hill at the new fairgrounds on Baton Rouge Road to the top of the next hill.

“He hoisted that building right off the hill, across the road and into place, with only one little piece of metal bent. There stands Donnie with that friendly little smile shining through that distinguished beard of his. He just loves a good challenge,” Webster said.

He’s also helped stranded motorists far from home.

“I just try to treat people like I want to be treated,” he said.

When he’s not working, he enjoys NASCAR racing. He’s traveled to a dozen racetracks and worked a wrecker during races. He’s even been to Japan to work before.

He works at Kentucky Speedway in Sparta during racing events. He also enjoys riding his 2007 Screaming Eagle Harley Davidson when he has time.

The rest of his time is spent with his wife, Marsha and daughter, Sabrina Harris, as well as his three grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Sechrest’s son, Brian, died in 1995.

He thinks of retirement, but mostly just keeps working because that’s what he knows.

“The awards were nice, but I’m just me and I’ll just keep plugging along,” Sechrest said.

Murder

“I think the plan was to rob (Monroe),” Cleveland said Tuesday. Monroe’s body was found May 6 around 9 a.m. about four to five feet off and down a two-foot drop-off along the Interstate 64 east-bound ramp at U.S. 127.

Melton said police also searched a spot off Interstate 64, near the Kentucky River bridge in connection with the killing.

According to Cleveland, the three men attempted to dispose of evidence by throwing some of Monroe’s personal items off the bridge and into the river

“Some of the evidence didn’t make it off the bridge,” Cleveland said. The preliminary cause of death is strangulation. Cleveland declined to comment on whether any weapons were used in the killing.

According to the indictment, Simons is also being charged with being a persistent felony offender second-degree after being convicted of two counts of first-degree unlawful distribution of a methamphetamine precursor in 2008 in Grant County

Hammond, Bruce and Simons are each being held at the Franklin County Regional Jail on a $500,000 full-cash bond.

Website is voter resource

Frankfort - As Kentucky’s May 22 primary election nears, the state’s voters are being encouraged to use the state Board of Elections’ www.elect.ky.gov website as a resource for voting. For example, the website can tell voters their polling place and the races in which they are eligible to vote.

The Voter Information Center on the state Board of Elections’ website contains information regarding voters’ party registration, eligibility to vote in partisan primaries, polling locations and driving directions from registered addresses to polling locations, according to a press release from Secretary of State Alison Lundergan Grimes’ office.

Sample ballots are also available online.

Voters can find information about individual candidates who filed with the secretary of state through a database on the Secretary of State’s website, sos.ky.gov. The information included in the database is provided by candidates and may include photographs, email addresses and links to campaign websites.

Water

In an effort to secure state grant money, Skinner visited Gov. Steve Beshear in Frankfort and asked for $5 million.

“He didn’t write a check, but he was receptive,” Skinner said. “He listened intently and didn’t say no and we believe that’s a positive.”

Skinner pointed out that the Ark Project will help Williamstown’s economy by bringing jobs.

“If we’re creating jobs, then the city could be eligible for up to $2 million in grants,” Skinner said.

In a five to one vote on April 17, the city council voted to hire HDR Engineers to begin the preliminary design for the water plant.

Four firms submitted bid proposals and the city council interviewed three before awarding the contract to HDR, who also designed the city’s new sewer plant, which began operation Oct. 4, 2011.

“We must have the preliminary design work completed for the grant and loan packages,” Skinner said.

The design process will take about three months and then 18 months to build after funding is obtained.

“The city is in a Catch 22 situation because we have to meet the new regulations by 2014 so we either have to be under construction on a new plant or upgrading the old one or we’ll be out of compliance,” Skinner said.
